SCHOOL HEALTH INFORMATION

Last week our school community was subjected to a ‘vomiting bug’. This particular strain seems quite contagious. Thank you to everyone who responded to our calls to collect students who were presenting as unwell, as well as to parents who were able to keep children at home if unwell either throughout the night or in the morning.

Following is advise from the Health Department about exclusions due to ill health.

Please note that a letter was sent home about this yesterday. The letter explained that the reason behind exclusions is in order to protect staff and students. The letter also set out signs and symptoms to look for.
Habits of the Mind:

Confidence - accepting myself, taking risks, being independent

Resilience – emotional awareness, communication, thinking-feeling connections

This term we have begun learning about how these habits of the mind can affect how we think and feel and therefore how we behave in particular circumstances... which in turn affects what is happening around us.

DARCY CUBIT

I have the pleasure of announcing this week’s Student of the week and today it is Darcy Cubit.

Darcy is a kind, thoughtful and caring student who takes his learning seriously. He wears the correct school uniform with pride. Darcy is able to maintain a strong focus when immersed in a task. He takes on any task with enthusiasm and determination and can be relied on to complete his work in the time given.

Darcy demonstrates his confidence and resilience by stepping out of his comfort zone to answer questions and to speak in front of the class. He takes on board feedback about his work and always strives to do the best he can. Darcy’s ability to ask for help when he doesn’t understand something or needs help has helped him improve his academic results. Darcy always volunteers to take on responsibility and assists both staff and peers in both the classroom and playground.

Darcy consistently cooperates with others and has a strong sense of fairness when participating in whole group and small group activities. He shows respect and consideration for others thoughts and actions when learning by listening attentively to others and asking relevant and thought provoking questions of his peers. Darcy accepts responsibility for his actions and repairs relationships with his peers independently. Darcy is the well-mannered gentleman of Year 1. Keep working hard Darcy your effort is paying off!

Congratulations Darcy!

Sponsorship Forms and Money Due Back

The cut off date for all sponsorship forms and money is this Friday 21st October as we still have many sponsorship forms that have not been returned.

Prizes are being ordered next Wednesday. There will be no late orders processed after this date.

If your child’s form and money have not been returned by this Friday, there will be no prizes ordered.
Last Friday Prep and Year 1 were visited by the Toogoolawah Fire Brigade. The students learnt all about fire safety. They got to try on fireman hats and coats, listen to the fireman through a gas mask, hold the fire hose and have a tour of the fire truck. The children of Prep ad year 1 would like to thank Fireman Grant, Fireman Tim and Fireman Graham for giving up their valuable time to come and talk to the students of Toogoolawah State School about Fire Safety.
